

AND, SO, BUT, BECAUSE

Match the starts and ends of the sentences.

It was raining,	and it's easy.
He likes dogs,	because I passed the test.
I was happy	but he hates cats.
This is fun,	so she took an umbrella.

(Red lines connect the dots on the left boxes to the dots on the right boxes, showing a cross-connection pattern.)

Complete the sentences. Use your imagination.
I was late because...	I overslept
He didn't study, so...	he failed the test.
Alan was happy, and...	he was smiling.
Tom is sleepy, but...	it is too early to sleep.
She was angry because...	her sister took her T-shirt.
It was sunny, so...	we went for a walk.
I go home at three o'clock, and...	then I do my homework.
He is a good actor, but...	he is very shy.
They went shopping because...	they need new shoes.
My dad likes chocolate, but...	he hates candy.

NOTE: These are all suggested answers. Other answers are also possible.

